A Continued Commitment to Quality

Over the years, Rucker's Makin' Batch Candies has incorporated many old recipes for making the best quality hard candies found anywhere. We are an American manufacturer that continues to use original formulas and old world methods established over 40 years ago. At Rucker's Makin' Batch Candies we use only the finest quality ingredients available, cook by copper kettle in small batches, and hand detail many pieces. Our fine products are made available in bulk, bags, jars, tins, etc. We also offer private labeling and customized product and packaging solutions to our customers.

While our commitment to produce quality candies is unwavering, we have changed many of our packages, as well as adding new items, flavors, and a Makin' Batch Sugar Free line of candies.
